

Civil and criminal work dominates the published jurisprudence

512 distinct decisions. Subject matter is inferred from the legal vocabulary of each text, not stated by the court — read it as indicative.

